

Cassie is an Associate Operations Director at the Fred Hutch Cancer Center. For the past two years she has led the administrative and project management team in Shared Resources Administration. For the previous 27 years, Cassie served in a scientific role, co-founding the Fred Hutch Genomics Shared Resource, and serving as Associate Director of the Resource. She has extensive experience as a core leader and now combines that with her broadening experience in Shared Resources Management, now supporting fourteen Fred Hutch Shared Resources.