

ACTRI vouchers provide an avenue for bioinformatics analysis of otherwise unfunded research, for junior researchers. We describe the process, benefits to the computational core and the researcher, and summarize progress so far.